In Ethiopia there are extensive areas in which the utilisation of shallow groundwater for irrigation or multiple use can be explored. This may be through open dug wells, through manually drilled wells, or both. In some areas springs can be used by gravity. These main potential areas are shown on the map. In addition there are a number of small valleys where shallow groundwater can be used as well. Local reconnaissance is always essential.